

Mohamed Wahab

Mohamed Wahab is the Managing Director of DELTA Microelectronics Ltd. He founded DELTA Microelectronics, the UK subsidiary of DELTA Denmark in 2002. Mohamed is also a Professor of Electronic Engineering at the University of Glamorgan in South Wales. Prior to DELTA Microelectronics, Mohamed was the Director of the Centre for Electronic Product Engineering at the University of Glamorgan and Professor of Electronics. He led the European Commission's FUSE project for microelectronics technology transfer between 1996 and 2001. Mohamed was awarded the OBE (Order of the British Empire) in 2004 for services to Electronic Engineering. He holds a BSc in Electronic Engineering from the University of Hull and a PhD in Medical Electronics from the University of Wales.

End of Document